SALE OF THE EASTERN ARGENTINE RR.

Mr Lucas Gonzalez has presented to the National Government a proposal on behalf of Messrs Mocatta & Co., London, for the sale of the Eastern Argentine Railway to the Argentine Government, and as we suppose Messrs Mocatta & Co. represent the shareholders, it is very possible that at last satisfactory terms will be arrived at, since, owing to the heavy guarantee which the Government has to pay each year on the capital, it is thought by many that the sooner the line can be purchased by the Government the better.

The actual cost of the railway is put down as follows:—

£689,000 in shares	£768,200 in 6 o/o Debent.
292,000 " debent.	298,000 " "
26,000 " "	27,200 " "
	£1,093,700
Liquid. expenses....	14,000
Conversion and commission..........	20,000
	£1.127,700

Thus the total cost of the road to the Government will be £1,127,700 in 6 per cent debentures and 1 per cent to be mortgages on the railway and to stand in the same category as the new Railway Debentures of the Province of Buenos Aires negotiated in London last year by Messrs Morton, Rose & Co. The exchange of £100 shares for £115 debentures show as follows:—

6 per cent interest......		£67,662
1 " Amortization..		11,277
		£78,339

The amortization being 1 per cent the whole debt will be paid off in 33½ years when the line will stand free to the Government.

It is difficult in the absence of fuller details respecting this all important proposal, to offer an opinion on its merits, but at first sight it would appear that the Government, by the transaction, would be a gainer of say one per cent. per annum, and would be enabled to limit the present loss entailed by the guarantee to a period of 33½ years, instead of being in perpetuity. This is on the supposition that the line would never be able to pay more than its working expenses. On the other hand there are very sound reasons for believing that each year under the same able and economic management that it at present enjoys, the deficit in the guarantee to be made good by the Government will steadily diminish. Furthermore, as the country up there is growing very fast, and its industries and productions rapidly on the increase, it may fall out in a few years that the Railway will be self-supporting. We have no richer district in the whole vast country than the Misiones, and the day will assuredly come when our sugar industry up there will rival our wool industry in this Province. The least improvement or let up in the Misiones would at once tell on the Eastern Argentine Railway, and make it like all our other Railways, a splendid dividend paying property. Mr. Lucas Gonzalez, whose long connection with Mr. Wheelwright and many of the great English enterprises in the Plate tenders him particularly eligible to negotiate this business, seems to have well studied the matter, and we believe if the business is to be carried out it could not be in safer or sounder hands.

NATIONAL BANK.

The following is the Report of the Directors for last year:—

Gentlemen

In compliance with Art. 49 of the Statutes, we lay before you the Balance Sheet and accounts for 1882, and trust that you will approve the results obtained.

The state of the Bank is eminently satisfactory, and calculated to inspire legitimate hopes in all who are interested in the progress, of the establishment. Everything prospers drafts, profits and credit, while the services the Bank renders the country at large are also on a larger scale, as it is the great agent of commerce in the Interior and on the Litoral, through its Head Office, 17 branches and 14 agencies.

The Balance Sheet, and other data given in this Report, and the Bank's books now open for the inspection of the auditors that may be elected at the meeting, will plainly prove the truth of what the Directors say, and refute the criticisms and censures inspired by bad faith or ignorance.

When the shareholders accepted the Law for increasing the capital to 20 millions, and the Government had paid 8,581,000 dol. gold, in Public Funds, the Board opened subscription lists all over the Republic for the 60,000 Shares, subject to the legal conditions set forth in the Prospectus.

The subscription was closed on the 14th inst. and the result left nothing to be desired, the applications being in notable excess, although this is the season when capital is required for the Harvest etc; 74,327 were subscribed for—9215 for cash and 65,112 payable in instalments. The total amount paid in is 2,223,740, and the pro-rata allotment will be made in a few days, as also the delivery of the new shares and provisional certificates.

In the Capital 60,478 shares were applied for, and in the Provinces 13,849—Santa Fe, Entre Rios, Cordoba, San Juan and San Luis being the chief ones. There are 985 subscribers, the highest number taken by any single one being 3000, while there are five subscribers for 2000 shares, 15 for 1000, and 974 for from 500 down to one.

In the subscription in 1872-1873 there were many subscribers for 5000 shares. The call on application was then only 5 per cent, while now it is 20. The money now paid for shares taken cash alone exceeds the whole subscription in 1873. The present subscription is more widely spread, not amongst speculators, but responsible persons who have great confidence in the Bank's future and appreciate the progress it has made from year to year. The 1873 subscription was covered many times over, but in their Report of November 1874 the Board had to declare the following:—

"It is notorious that the first shareholders of the National Bank were not able to pay up on their shares, even by slow and gradual instalments, and even the reduction of the capital to 20 millions was not sufficient to counteract the effects of the ill-judged applications for an excessive number of shares."

In the recent subscription quite the contrary occurred, as there is a greater number of subscribers and all of them are responsible parties. To some of these the Board lent money to help them to pay for their shares, on the guarantee that their provisional certificates should not be disposed of without the consent of the Board. The Bank is also guaranteed by the Law, which provides that if the calls are not paid, all previous payments are forfeited. In this way the Bank has fulfilled a duty, by helping customers of known responsibility, and thus placing its money in safe hands.

The Board is endeavouring to realise that part of the capital in Public Funds and Treasury Bonds. The subscription to shares increases the capital, but the advantageous negotiation of over 9 millions of Public Securities is the best way to secure the benefits of such increase. We have on hands 8,571,000 gold dollars in Bonds and 450,000 in Treasury Bills. With a part of this sum available, the Bank will have larger means at its command; it will be able to increase the capital of its branches, and establish a safe and regular system of drawing with the chief cities abroad. The Bank has received proposals of open credits in Europe, but has not yet taken them into consideration, believing that a large foreign exchange business is only advantageous when a Bank's own resources enable it to draw or take exchange. The Board expect shortly to place part of the Public Securities, and will then adopt a system of foreign exchange.

The disorder that has prevailed in our monetary system appears to be drawing to a close, as some banks are preparing to convert their notes, while others are calling in the notes they issued on the basis of a depreciated foreign coinage, and because the Coinage Law of the Republic is now coming into force. The disorder referred to weighed exclusively on the National Bank, as, while it was bound to emit convertible notes based on the dollar, other banks issued just what they pleased.

In consequence of the change for the better our circulation is becoming large, and the Board has taken steps to comply with the Coinage Law, in order to still further increase it. The old emission will be replaced by notes of one National Dollar, gold, convertible at the Bank and all its branches, free of commission.

The Board have selected this basis in order to make the circulation uniform, to save it from the possible oscillations in the value of silver, and because, the capital and shares of the Bank being in gold, its notes ought to be the same.

The Bank Charter imposes serious responsibilities on it. It is the National Banker, and its notes should inspire perfect confidence, be a uniform sign all over the Republic, and be above even a suspicion that they might one day be converted in silver, should its relatively legal value decline at any time.

In the Capital of the Republic we will retain the fuerte note, to help its circulation, as it coincides in value with the note of the Provincial Bank. For this reason, the circulation in the Capital has much increased, as the objection of some other banks to receive our notes has been overcome. Twelve million National dollars gold notes have been ordered in the U. States to replace the present emission.

For the rest, the circulation of the National Bank note is undisturbed all over the Republic and rapidly increasing. In 1881 it was 2,410,808 pats; in 1882 it rose to 3,821,294, and we calculate that it is at the present moment much over 4 millions. If the Coinage Law be properly complied with and the obligatory amount (8 millions gold and 4 silver) be duly coined, and if other Banks comply with the law, the circulation of the National Bank Note at the end of this year may probably reach 8 or 10 millions of dollars.

The Bank employs 103 clerks, and finds much difficulty in securing employés who understand well the sphere of operations of the respective branches The board has always paid especial attention to the matter, removing and changing clerks. The management of affairs has greatly improved thereby, and the effects are seen in the splendid profits of the year 1882, which shew 28.59 o/o more than in 1881.

The branches that have given the best results during the year are:

Gualeguay....	64.74 o/o
San Luis......	42.25
Gualeguaychu..	40.35
Parana........	27.33
Tucuman......	25.08
San Juan......	21.70
Concepcion....	19.91
Mendoza......	17.21
Corrientes.....	16,77
Rosario.......	14.66
Santiago......	14.46
Salta..........	13.22

They have operated with $15,130,521, comprising capital, commission and deposits. With regard to the branches, we must remove a very general and erroneous impression which has arisen from a prejudiced opinion of the commerce of the Interior. Many think that the capital of the Bank runs serious risks in the Interior.

There is no doubt that business in the Interior is slow, but it is also very sound. The losses of the branches during the crisis of 1874-1876, compared with those of the central house, are as 1 to 5. This is easily understood. Risks here are greater and operations are more active and more adventurous; in the provinces all operations are slower and the sphere of same is better known. The increasing profits of the branches corroborate the fact.

The Bank has reduced its rates of interest to the limits deemed convenient in the actual condition of affairs:

Pagarés..........	7 per cent.
Discounts........	8 "
Renewals........	9 "
Advances ac. cur..	9 "

These rates are uniform in all the branches of the Bank. We may state that from the 1st February the Bank will limit the rate on "letras" to 8 per cent., suppressing the 9 per cent. on renewals.

As soon as the Bank places its National Bonds the rates of amortization will be reduced in the central Bank and in the branches, where business is very slow.

Everything favours the Plate. The Bank participates in the great impulse given to all the vital forces which are giving such an energetic development to the Republic.

The following figures shew the progress of the Bank:—

	1882.	1881.
	$ fts.	$ fts.
Discounts......	23,756,265	16,883,109
Deposits........	8,882,737	4,923,515
Drafts, etc......	19,986,554	16,007,337
General movement of capital........	493,462,316	321,141,598
Profits..........	826,616	819,672

The central establishment gave $410,493.58 profits during the year. The branches $416,125.98 against $323,585.46 in 1881. The increase of profits in the branches is most remarkable.

The bank made $204,035.23 in 1881 owing to the fall in the premium in gold and the rise of the inconvertible paper of the Provincial Bank. This was quite an unforeseen profit to the Bank; but the profits of 1882, amounting to $826,619.56, shew the steady progress and ratio of the Bank in its regular and normal operations, stripped of such extraordinary operations as increased the figures of 1881.

The protested bill account is diminishing and the unfortunate inheritance of 1876 is disappearing.

The amount of protested bills in 1876 amounted to $1,632,234.90. The old shareholders bore the loss, carrying forward each year large amounts to the reserve fund and dubious accounts to Profit and Loss.

In 1881, outside the reserve fund, $f. 148,475 were carried to losses, reducing the bad debts to $f. 601,052.48. The Board of Directors have recently made a careful study of all the bad debts, in order that the new shareholders who enter this year, might enter under the most favorable circumstances. The results of this study are that the large amount of $f.224,484.95 will be carried to losses, including the amount passed by the branches before the revision effected by the Board.

Thus $f.108,027 were put aside for the losses of the branches and $f116,457.81 on that of the central house.

The item bad debts has been now reduced to $f. 439,818.62, against a reserve fund of $f. 153,604, which is larger than the amount prescribed by the law of 12th Oct. 1882.

Deducting the reserve fund from the bad debts, the latter stand at $fts. 286,-217.62.

Thus the new shareholders enter an establishment on sound foundations, with credit and a splendid management all over the country, which has cost many years and much money to secure. They enter an established bank and not an embryonic enterprise. The evils that stunted the growth of the Bank no longer exist; it no longer falls back on a fictitious capital of 8,000,000 pesos fuertes, since the bonds of 1876, handed to the Bank, were paid out of the very profits of the Bank. To-day the shareholders join a bank with a bona-fide capital of 20 millions. The Government has paid its shares in bonds that represent real values and has complied with the term of the law which makes the Bank the Treasury of the Nation. They enter a bank with sound assets and reliable profits and with shares, no longer at 30 or 50 p. cent, but at par.

The following figures show the working of the Bank since its reorganization to the 31st Dec. 1882. The figures are eloquent and refute all arguments, inspired by distrust and animosity.

PARIS LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

January 4th.

In 1868 Gambetta, till then a youth to fortune and to fame unknown, wakened up one morning and found himself celebrated—like Byron. In defending the subscribers to the Baudin testimonial—organized by Delescluze—the sole bravest of the brave under the Commune—Gambetta gave the first shake to the foundations, through built on sand, of the Second Empire, and whose tottering was accelerated, by Rochefort, in 1870, till the Imperial edifice tumbled by the arrest of Napoleon III. at Sedan, the flight of the Prince Imperial into Belgium and the compulsory withdrawal of the Empress from France, under the ægis of an American dentist. Many ladies then fell in love with the talented, briefless barrister, with features browned by the sun of southern France. He was slim and fiery, had bushy black whiskers, his best coat had not more than two buttons left on the breast—he was anything but Tennyson's curl'd Assyrian bull, smelling of "musk and insolence." He was "devil" to the old, worthy, but ugly Israelitish barrister, Cremieux, or rather to the latter's assistant, the popular Clément Laurier; but instead of replacing Laurier at pleadings, Laurier had oftener to replace his substitute, who had a weakness for stump politics in beer saloons. Besides, this strange young barrister was the Paris correspondent for Europe, a journal published at Frankfort, and wrote legal biographies for three sous a line. He was not missed from the office, as Cremieux said he was good for nothing but addressing envelopes, and might be entrusted with copying an ordinary title-deed.

In a bound, Gambetta became the incarnation of opposition under the Empire: was standing counsel for all political offenders, and chief lieutenant under Thiers, in the Corps Legislatif. A very young, elegant and fashionable lady, the widow of a public prosecutor in the region of Bordeaux, fell in love with Gambetta at this dawning of his brilliant career. She did not conceal her passion, and since Gambetta assured her he had determined never to marry, she, like Heloïse, implored to be made the mistress of the man she loved. Faites. This elegant and accomplished lady, with an excellent jointure of her own, became henceforward known as Madame Leonié-Leon, and boasts now of 35 summers. There was born of this "liason" one child, a boy, Alphonse Leonié-Leon Massabie—the latter being a name in Gambetta's family—and who is now some fourteen years of age, and studying at Dresden.

Madame-Leonié Leon had evidently set her heart on having her son legitimated: Gambetta never objected, only pleaded postponement, as to expose that incident of his private life to publicity, would only be so much scandal for his adversaries to revel over. A month ago "Madame" came to breakfast with Gambetta at his country residence, Ville d'Avray, near Versailles, the mansion where Balsaac died and wrote, but did not complete his "Human Comedy." The thorny subject of legally recognizing Alphonse was again broached, and the mistress meeting with a stern "no," drew from her pocket a revolver—French ladies of late, of equivocal standing, are ever armed with pistols or phials of corroding acids—and was going to shoot herself, when Gambetta seized the weapon; one ball penetrated his hand and ran along the arm, and a second ball lodged in his abdomen.

Every attempt was made to hush up the misadventure. Curiously-worded accounts were sent to the journals; even the doctors proved convenient. No mention was made of the ball in the abdomen; the doctors concluded it would be lost in the peculiarly fatty regions of that portion of Gambetta's system. But they ignored the patient's general health. He was diabetic, asthmatic and anameic. An abscess formed internally, and when the moment came to operate Gambetta was prostrated from fever and irritation. The abscess burst; cold fits suddenly ensued, with glacial transpirations, proof that the puse had entered the blood, atrocious sufferings followed, a "clot" arrived at the heart, and life instantly ceased.

That "Madame" did not intend to assassinate her lover is proved by the fact that she never left the house, but nursed Gambetta 35 days and night uninterruptedly, and when the "dénouement" arrived she shrieked and swooned like all ladies who lose their lords and masters.

The doctors are to hold a post-mortem to set the question of the internal ball at rest, but after stating at the outset that no such thing existed, few will credit any "kulletin" they may now issue. More faith is attached to their assertion, that they did not exactly comprehend Gambetta's malady. Others say, warned by the surgical blunders about poor Garfield, the profession here hesitated over the probing process.

I knew Gambetta when he came to Paris, warm and young. On Monday I saw him on his death-bed, an old man, suggesting 60, instead of 44 years, with white beard and hair; his nose appeared singularly large, owing to illness wearing away his features, the latter had already commenced to decompose from blood-poisoning—his eye was wide open. Some papers say "eyes," though he had only one, and there was something of a sad, stern smile round the mouth, as if to say, "I have died too young," at an age, when many only commence to be celebrated. "Death is only a function," and the most tranquil of all," as Littré says, was not here recognised. Judging from the bed-cover, the deceased's stomach must have been awfully swollen.

Dr Charcot is to weigh and mould Gambetta's brain; it ought to be massive, judging from the head. Carjat has taken a splendid photograph: Bonnat and Meissonnier excellent sketches, and Falguiéres has succeeded with the moulding. The apartment is simplicity itself: Gambetta being a materialist, there is no religious emblem; at the head of his bed, where ordinarily in France a crucifix is suspended, a thermometer hangs; there is a portrait of Mirabeau near the foot of the bed, and around, numerous bibelots suggestive of the bachelor's or collegian's life; his favorite authors Rabelais, Moliére and La Fontaine were on the night table. The Villa is a wigwam devoid of luxuries. The deceased often expressed the wish to be interred beside his mother—dead since a year, at Nice. Likely his father will yield to the desire of a national funeral, and burial in that real Pantheon—Pére Lachaise.

Gambetta was so far Italian as to be eminently superstitious; he believed since years he would die by the hands of a woman; he frequently consulted a sonambuliste in the Rue Tournon, and shortly before the 'accident,' that fair creature warned him to be prepared for a catastrophe. His mother too was superstitious; when enceinte with him, a fortune-teller predicted the coming little stranger would be a boy, and destined for high things; hence, why the mother made every effort to make Leon a scholar, instead of a grocer, like his father.

In private life Gambetta was a jolly fellow, and ever kept the table in a roar; none laughed heartier at a broad story, and none surpassed him in relating one; in his high fortune he rested ever the same towards his early friends, and despite his rough-diamondness, knew how to attract, to keep together, and to group men. He was not exactly a learned man, but had a marvellous aptitude for instantly seizing knowledge; he was fond of the theatre; cared little about music, but was an authority on the Fine Arts.

Gambetta died too early, or too late; his life may be said to have been a battle and a march. In 1868 he fought the Empire; in 1870, the Prussians, and up to 1878 the coalesced foes of the Republic. Eloquence was his weapon; none surpassed him in an intuitive knowledge of his auditors, and in moulding into a formula the pent up feelings of millions. In tact he was supreme, and his eloquence intoxicated his hearers; he swept all before him, and his repartees to interrupters had the crack of the knout. His mind was initiative and audacious, but he aimed to be the master, not the servant of democracy. That was the source of all his woes.

His apogée was during his visit to Cherbourg, where he eclipsed President Grévy, and to his native town of Cahors, where his voyage was a royal triumph. His fall dates from the late elections at Belleville, when those who had elevated him to political fortune repudiated him, and who now express indecent exultation over his premature death. But then it must be admitted, Gambetta's views, not those of his electors, had changed. He had promised them when in opposition, reforms that when in power he could not realize; hence, he became an "opportunist"—Rochefort coined the name. He commenced to trim; to advocate half measures. This explains why the Republic he created is still in monarchcial swaddling clothes. He has left no successor; he was himself a party and a programme.

The Republic does not expire with Gambetta; there will be a new grouping of parties, and circumstances will create the leaders: Jules Ferry may temporarily succeed him, but the bulk of his followers will drift to Clemenceau, an able but a too advanced politician. The nation will have no master, to all appearances, but itself; it is not its role to obey, but to be obeyed, and so the present Ministry may count upon a respite.

Gambetta gave but a poor idea of statesmanship, when reluctantly forced from pulling the wires behind the scenes, to act in full day, and on his own responsibility. He has stirred up much religious animosity, without settling any religious difficulty. In his death, the Republic loses its Grand Elector. He was also the spectre of Revenge for the poor Alsatians, who, like him, counted upon a collision between Germany and Russia. But Gambetta was not the less a great and a pure patriot. Formerly there was not a woman in France howsoever poor, but gave a spindle-full of flax to make up the ransom money for Duguesclin; there is not a Frenchman but might well give, were it possible, an hour of his life to prolong that of Gambetta's.

IRELAND IN 1882.

The harvest has been a bad one in many districts, and the small holders who have lost the potato crop will feel the pinch seriously. On the other hand, there has been a revival of the cattle trade, and graziers and cattle dealers are prosperous. The craze about American competition is dying out, and Irish cattle again command high prices in the English market. The fact is the increasing evidence of the precarious results of tillage will be likely further to stimulate the tendency to abandon the cultivation of crops, except so far as it may help to fatten stock, and so will aggravate the grievance out of which the agitators make so much capital. There is also a risk of the grasiers and breeders being led to over-speculate, and becoming involved in further embarrassments from the present prosperity. It is estimated that they have made this year at least five millions more than last year, and the price of young stock has gone up so much that if foreign competition should again seriously reduce the value of cattle and pigs, the consequence may be disastrous to them. The exports of Irish cattle in 1882 have been 200,000 more than in 1881, and the exports of pigs 110,000 more. There has been a falling off in the exports of sheep owing to the prevalence of rot and other diseases. At the same time there has been a great falling off in the supplies of American cattle and dead meat, except sheep, into the Liverpool and London markets. The imports of cattle into Liverpool were this year, 43,000; last year they were, 60,612; of sheep this year, 81,450; last year, 65,436; of fresh beef this year, 280,811 cwt.; last year, 480,955 cwt.; of mutton this year, 19,212 cwt.; last year, 29,862 cwt.; of pork this year, 2,306 cwt.; last year, 13,051 cwt.; of boxes of bacon this year, 372,721; last year, 586,971. This decrease of competition has opened a fine field for the Irish exporters, and if no reaction takes place, they have a prosperous future before them. The decrease may be explained by the greater prosperity, larger emigrations, and consequent demand for home consumption in America, and as regards pigs, the badness of the corn crop, which militated against the rearing of hogs. There has been a visible improvement in the trade of the country during the year. The amount of money in the banks in the beginning was greater than at corresponding periods of previous years, and there has been since a free circulation and more confidence. The number of commercial travellers has largely increased and cash payments are more readily and generally obtained. There has been a decrease in the business of the Court of Bankruptcy. In a country having a more speculative trade, this would be regarded as a bad sign, but it should be remembered that the trade of Ireland is more cautious and limited, and, therefore, the same conclusion should not be drawn from the fact. It is rather a proof of stability. The number of petitions filed in 1882 was 215, of which 40 were against farmers. The proceedings in the Court were found to be very efficacious against tenants who were disposed to obey the no rent manifesto, for in the majority of cases where preliminary proceedings were taken for the recovery of rent, the debt was paid before a petition was filed. Last year the number of petitions filed was 272, being 57 more than this year. The number of petitions for arrangement with creditors filed in 1881 was 265, this year it was 214, the assets in all cases that year were considerably under the average. The number of petitions filed by or against Dublin traders was unusually small, although it is well-known that many firms have suffered severely from the strain of the last three years which has recently begun to show its damaging effects in the city. There was one very heavy failure on the Stock Exchange and two others of considerable amounts, involving serious loss to one of the banks; but on the whole the commercial credit of Dublin is well maintained, and in the opinions of those best qualified to judge there is material as well as moral improvement in the country, the benefit of which is felt by the wholesale dealers, who a year or two ago were very downcast at the prospect. There is nothing specially worthy of notice in connexion with the linen trade, it is steady, but there is no great activity to be observed in it. The Cork butter trade has increased, and is recovering its high character. The deep-sea fishermen of Kinsale have suffered some vicissitudes, and are not as flourishing as usual; at Baltimore, however, immense progress has been made. But little has been done to cultivate the oyster fisheries, notwithstanding the inducements held out in the market. To this observation there is one honourable exception in the example of Mr. Woodhouse, of Omeath, who has invested considerable capital, and by great intelligence and care as well as enterprise has established beds upon an extensive scale in Carlingford Bay. He follows the French system as recommended by the Fishery Commissioners, who speak warmly in commendation of his successful work in their last report. The imports of foreign breadstuffs and barley into Dublin during the year have been very large, and the stock of grain and flour the greatest known for many years. This is, no doubt, partly due to the increase of grain crops in the country. The stock of maize here and in other ports is unprecedentedly small. The exports of porter have increased by 38,000 hogheads, the amount of duty paid by Messrs. Guinness and Co., the highest on record, being on over a million of barrels. The shipments of whiskey have fallen off, but stocks are low, and a far superior trade is expected in the coming year. There has been an attempt to revive manufacturing industry, and if the blight of sectarianism and class hatred and political prejudice does not fall upon it, some permanent good may result. There is a demand for technical education which seems to be sincere; but the habit of looking to the Government to initiate every useful movement and to provide employment for the people, does not encourage a belief that the means and opportunities already existing for developing industrial talent will be turned to the best account. There is no reason here to suppose that the workhouse system will not be adequate to the pressure in destitute districts. It is a suggestive fact that the number of farmers now in receipt of relief is actually less than it was this time last year. There can be no doubt that if they felt the pressure of want very keenly they would not refuse to go into the workhouae, where there is ample room. The clause about which an outcry was raised three years ago does not exclude them from the workhouse, but only from the receipt of outdoor relief. It is a notable fact that the traffic receipts on all the lines of railway, with two exceptions, have increased, and the Midland line, which passes through the poorest districts, will show an increase of £20,000 in the half-year. This is a sign of more animation and enterprise in trade of various kinds, and partly due, no doubt, to the return of people to more peaceable habits. As regards the city of Dublin there are, it must be admitted, but few new projects indicating public spirit, and if any striking evidence of its absence were wanting, it would be found in the fact that the ruins of the only theatre worthy of a great city which it possessed, the Theatre Royal, remain in their desolation and unsightliness since the building was burnt down three years ago. Nothing has yet been done to give the city more than a theatre on paper. Excuse may be found for allowing such a wreck to continue, but it is still a reproach to the citizens who make no effort to remove it.

EDITOR'S TABLE

The rain yesterday morning was warmly welcomed. Estancieros and editors with a few hard-earned cows to mark embraced each other, while National Bank shareholders, under the stimulus of the two Rs—the Rain and the Report—looked positively apoplectic through excessive radiance of countenance.

We can manage Greek, Latin, Spanish, French, German, Italian, Walloon, Portuguese, Russian, High Dutch and a trifle of Guarani, but we were floored yesterday by Chinese, in the shape of the China Mail, sent to us from Hong-Kong by Dr. Lauson. Can any of our subscribers help us to read the mass of signs and hieroglyphics in our Celestial exchange? The paper is a curiosity, and we have placed it in our museum.

Count Wimpffen's suicide in Paris was an awful affair. He said, a few days before, that his Government was playing a double game with Italy, Germany, Russia, in fact all the powers; yet left him so much in the dark that he was driven half mad to know how to steer the Austrian Embassy in Paris.

A horrible suspicion was raised by a colleague yesterday, viz., that all the sergeants and soldiers implicated in the recent fizzle in Montevideo have had their throats cut!! Also, that poor Captain Castro has been murdered in prison. The cup is full. This country and Brazil should join in a Protectorate in Banda Oriental, and establish a decent Government there.

Mr. Quesada, the new Argentine Minister to Brazil, will leave for Rio on the 24th, with a proposal for arbitration in his pocket.

Our talented Paris Correspondent has resumed his letters. Amost interesting one, about Gambetta's life and death, will be found in another column.

Great camp fires are reported in Entre Rios, along the banks of the Uruguay. At Paysandu they turned out to read newspapers by the light of the blaze on the opposite bank!! Oh! We dont believe a word of this.

The weather was so chilly yesterday that there were few swimmers in the Belgrano Baths, and the Committee took the opportunity to have them overhauled and cleaned.

There was a funeral service in San Francisco Church yesterday evening, at 6 p.m., for the late venerated Bishop of Cordoba.

The works to extend the Western Railway from Pergamino to San Nicolas commenced on Monday last. The length of line is 19 kilometres, and there are 300 men at work.

Here's a go! The Chamber of Appeal has condemned a dead-beat named Puricelli (we hope his real name is not Purcell) to two years imprisonment. There is nothing funny in this, especially for poor Purcell; but there is prodigious fun in the fact that he is to pass his term of confinement in Asuncion!! and still greater point is given to the joke by the Court having asked the Minister of Justice to give Purcell a free passage to the Paraguayan capital! We never imagined that the Judges of the Appeal Court had half so much fun in them. As a rule Judges are ineffably dull cards, at least while on the Bench.

Dr. Gould, the eminent savan who directs the Cordoba Observatory, leaves to-day for England in the Leibnitz, with his family. We wish him a prosperous voyage and speedy return.

Carnival has received another kick in the shins by the graceful resolution of the French residents to abstain from all participation in the festival, as a mark of respect to Gambetta's memory. None of the French societies will take part in the Corso.

There is wretched tepidity and lack of "entusiasmo" amongst candidates for Municipal honours at the approaching elections. Mr. Williams is the only man who has as yet issued an address to the electors. It is a good one, but not rhetorical enough for this climate. If Hector Varela were here now, he would fire off something suitable for the occasion.

The new telegraph line between B. Aires and Brazil begins working to-day.

A subscription is being got up to present the Lord Mayor with an album. He deserves a dozen albums and a few bushels of gold medals, as he has done more for the city than all his predecessors rolled into one.

Telegrams were received yesterday announcing great fires near the Kurumalan camps.

The latest about the City Improvement Works bids is that they will all be thrown out. The very old story. Another year lost. We said it.

Several members of the "Marina" Club put on "full fig" the other day and went to pay a visit to the Italia, the emigrant steamer now lying in the Boca. The genuine sailors on board that ship took their imitation visitors for Carnival maskers and bundled them out of the vessel, telling them that no maskers would be admitted till Carnival. This is a sharp hint to the Marina Club to adopt a somewhat less theatrical official costume.

The Commissary General of Immigration has reported most favourably on the experiment of landing emigrants at the Boca. A tramway siding will be built opposite the Asilo in Calle Cerrito, in order not to interfere with the ordinary traffic on the days that emigrants arrive by tram from the Boca.

The Libertad remarks on the increasing number of tremendously fat people, especially ladies, and recommends the Banting system. Banting fiddlestick! What our corpulent beauties want is more fresh air and walking exercise, and fewer "caramelos" and "paseos en carruage."

The 233 emigrants who went down to Bahia Blanca last week all obtained employment an hour after they landed. This shows conclusively how things are striding ahead down there. What an egregious blunder Governor Roach made in not selecting Bahia Blanca as Capital of the Province! La Plata, even if built, can never come to be anything but a suburb of B. Aires.

The meeting of the Municipality yesterday was well attended, and much business transacted. Dr. Ramos Mejia was named Inspecting Physician of all the hospitals, at a salary of 10,000$m/c per month; and Calle Bella Vista and Palermo Road at the petition of the residents and householders will henceforward be called Avenida General Alvear.

We give in our On 'Change column the report of the Government auction which came off yesterday. Property holders out in Lincoln will see that the price of land out there is not only well maintained, but rising. The land sold averaged 394,000$m/c per league; these lands a year or so ago could have been bought for 125 to 150,000$m/c per league.

Advices from some of the inside partidos are most unfavorable; many people obliged to drive their flocks out to new lands at great expense and inconvenience. We believe if it rained every day in the year some of these inside camps would not come round, they have been so terribly eaten down and overstocked; never before had we a more favorable season than the present, rain every, week and yet some complain.

The "feuilleton" race between the Nacional and Diario continues, to the great interest of some, amusement of others, and indifference of the rest. The Diario is, of course, lengths ahead, as its venerable rival has for a long time been stiff in the knee-joints, a painful complaint that renders it bilious and irritable, while its young rival walks away from it.

Dr. Ayer's Compound Extract OF SARSAPARILLA

For the certain and radical cure of all those diseases which arise from

Impurity of the Blood.

It is very foolish—indeed it amounts to imbecility—to attempt experiments with inferior preparations composed of worthless drugs or of such indigenous plants or herbs whose ordinary effects are not confirmed by Medical Science, whilst the malady with which you are attacked is daily gaining ground in your system.

Put aside all thoughts of these and take instead and at once, a remedy guaranteed by actual experience and by the medical faculty all over the world, to be unquestionably the most efficacious in all Diseases of the Blood or Blood Poisoning.

Dr AYER'S Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla is a well-known remedy of 40 years standing, and is prescribed by all eminent physicians throughout the world. Hundreds of thousands of sick and infirm persons have realized the benefits arising from the use of this truly honest medicine; and they are so many evidences of its incomparable virtues and of the good results obtained by their faithful use.

Cedulas E	84⅞
National Bank Shares	102½

The close of the month's liquidation in National Bank Shares was a much slower business than many looked forward to at the opening of the year, and the great resumption in speculation which people anticipated has not been realised. No Syndicate was formed to bull the stock, no heavy men as in former days entered the market to buy or to sell with some half dozen of brokers at their command; those days of glorious speculation are passed and the market is left to itself, with the same men, the same capital, the same credit to work the oracle. As a rule, the bears this month made more money than the bulls, since the latter, believing in a possible European subscription to the new stock and the raising of funds in London on the National Bonds, either bought for rise or held the stock they at present owned and refused to sell out when prices were at 112. Had the shares dropped to 95, as very many anticipated when the news of the Franken flare-up was known, doubtless many new parties would have entered the market; but the stock from the very beginning of the month was oversold. All the old hands at the ring sold heavily, and hence it is that the market sustained itself in spite of the delivery of shares to-day. Heavy attempts were made to bear the market this morning, and rates at an early hour ruled weak, but the market grew firmer later on and the stock closed at official hours with a strong upward tendency.

Over 2,000 shares changed hands for cash; rates opened at 101¾, rose to 102½, fell to 101¾ and closed at 102½ very firm. Several thousand shares were passed to February at 1 and 2 o/o. Four hundred and fifty shares were marked sold for the end of February; rates opened at 103¾, rose to 104 and closed at 103¾.

The "vencimientos" of National Bank Shares for the month were very small, and only amounted to 48,788 shares, liquidation price at 102 o/o. The "vencimientos" of Cedulas amounted to $f.1,457,000, liquidation price 84½. These figures shew the great dullness of the month. This dullness of affairs is not limited to the Bolsa, since exporters and importers, barraqueros, consignatarios and shippers all complain of a very dull season. This state of affairs is unexampled at this time of the year. The receipts of the Custom House, meantime, are very large, and the returns of the month are not far from $f.1,500,000. These very large returns shew that imports are arriving on heavy shipments. All the deposits are full and little stock is moving off. Importers state that the month shews some improvement as compared with December, and that some articles are moving off with activity. The rise in freights also betokens an improved condition of the market, but taking all in all the month has been exceedingly dull, and there is a general paralzyation in all branches of trade.

Cedulas show no important change. Series A was weaker, and operations were effected at 100⅛ this morning. Series E maintains its quotations at 84⅞ for cash, and 84⅞ for the end of next month. Over 130,000 Cedulas changed hands for cash at these rates, and 25,000 for the end of February.

The gold market was very quiet, and no operations were reported to-day, although the end of the month. Exchange rules flat, and little doing in sterling. Fair amounts reported done in francs.

Four leagues of National lands, some ten leagues West of the 5th Meridian, are reported sold, at the rate of $60,000 m/c per league. Seller, Mr. Guerrico.

The Camara Sindical of the Bolsa has appointed Mr. Pommez, its President. Mr. Pommez is well-known in the market, and has filled this important post before to the satisfaction of the members.

The Municipal Bondholders will receive the new Bonds in payment of the old debt and its interests overdue next month. Both the Lord Mayor and his Secretary are hard at work signing all the documents. The Municipality will hand these Bonds to the actual creditors of the Corporation at 90 o/o.

A proposal has been made to the National Government to buy the Eastern Argentine Railway. In another column we refer to this important matter.

A colleague announces that the Water Board will throw out the tenders presented for the completion of the City Improvement Works. This news was much commented on in the market. In the event of the Board throwing out these proposals, there remains only one tender, which is before the Minister of the Interior at present.

The following sales are announced:—

1000 head of cattle in the South, with 10 p. cent novillos, at 180 m/c per head.

6000 sheep in the South at 20 m/c each.

1600 do, with some mestiza Lincoln, at 30% by the cut.

20 mestizo Durham bulls at 700 m/c each.

20 Durham heifers, ¾ blood, at 1250 m/c each. Huss, seller.

The sales at the ring were as follows:—

Cedulas—
For cash A 6,800 at 100-⅛
For cash E 130,000 at 84⅞-½-⅝
For Feb. 28th E 25,000 at 84⅞-⅞
Sales, 161,800

For Feb. 28th 1,450 103½-¾-¼-¾-104-103¾
Sales, 3,850
Vencimientos, 48,788
Liquidation, 102

The Provincial Bank discounted to-day $6,000,000 m/c. The Board are discussing a motion of Director B. Hueyo, to make a careful study of all the bad debts of the Bank.

The following sales of produce are reported:—

2,000 salted ox-hides of 64 lbs. from Roca's at 48½.

3,000 salted ox-hides of 64 lbs, from Podesta, at 48½.

Two other sales of salted hides were reported to-day, but they require confirmation. The market is a little firmer.

The wool markets are very dull. Good wools are in steady demand, but bad qualities are neglected.

Some Government Bills were done to-day for September at 9 per cent.

Messrs. Baltar & Quesada will sell by auction to-morrow a dozen of fine shorthorns, lately imported from Europe by Mr Nash.

A well-known party liquidated all his shares to-day, and 6000 shares were delivered to the liquidator. Many thought as they witnessed the delivery at 11½ a.m. that this would drive prices down, but the market resisted the fall and operations during afterhours began at 103 firm, and went up to 104½ for cash. Several thousand shares were sold. Operations were done for the end of February at 105. The market for cash closed at 104. The heavy operators evidently intended to bear the market in order to buy, but the attempt fell through. Everything passed off smoothly at the liquidation counter. Large amounts of money were taken up to-day on the shares, and very large numbers were passed over to the end of next month.

The public sale of lands at Lincoln was held to-day and proved another splendid success; the land averaging $147 % per hectare, or say $394,000 % per league. The lots sold as follows:—

Lots.	Per hectare.	Buyer.
1 and 2, 16 and 15 at	$116%	J. Goronda
17 and 18, 32 and 31	140	F. Bustels
3 and 4, 14 and 13	130	V. Curuchet
5 and 6, 12 and 11	150	Do
7 and 8, 10 and 9	160	Do
19 and 20, 30 and 29	150	A. Hönter
21 and 22, 28 and 27	160	V. Curuchet
23 and 24, 26 and 25	170	Do

It may be observed that lots 7-8-10-9-23-24 26-25 adjoin the magnificent Duggan estancia, some 24 leagues of land all wire fenced. The very easy terms on which the Provincial Government sells these lands, of course, greatly facilitates their sale, and farmers who are paying enormous rents for "puestos" about San Pedro and other partidos would do well to go out and inspect these outside lands and purchase, if possible, from the Government. In this country there is no room as yet for any charges against landlords or estancieros for rack-renting or charging exorbitant rents, since with a little energy and push any sheep-farmer has redress in his own hands by driving off his sheep and settling on these new lands. The sale at the Government House to-day was largely attended, and many parties from outside come in to buy the lands.

Messrs. Gaston Sansinena & Sons, in their important fortnightly circular, report the following:—

Sales since 15th Jan. to 30th Jan., 1883:—

Salted Saladero Hides of this Province—
Sales, 20,000 novillo hides.
9,000 novillo hides, Magdalena, 64 lb, 48½ reales.
4,000 do, do, 64 lb, 48½ rls.
2,000 do, do, 64 lb, 48½ rls.
5,000 do, Tuyu, 64 lb, 49 rls.
Stock, 6,000 hides.

Messrs. Bunge & Co., in their produce circular, under date Antwerp, Jan. 4th, 1883, give the following:—

Wool—

The past year has brought but little change on our market as far as the article's general situation is concerned. The system according to which consumers supply themselves directly at the places of production has, however, continued to gain in favor, which necessarily implies a strengthening of the transito trade to the detriment of the regular wool business on the open market. Looking at the situation from the importers' point of view we may say that business has not been of an encouraging character. Purchases for Antwerp account having been too liberal at the opening of the season, we had during the first months of the year already an available stock, which proved to be in excess of the wants of the part of consumption which is still accustomed to look to our market for its supply. Toward the end of March our stock reached 40,000 bales, this being an unusually large quantity for that time of the year, and it being also the period during which direct imports for manufacturers account are wont to be at their highest, arrivals proved to be too much for our market. In order provisorily to give prices that degree of stability which appeared necessary to avoid losses, and if possible to provoke a higher and more remunerative standard of prices towards the end of the year, it was decided to offer for sale but part of our stock, which policy has been steadfastly adhered to until the taking place of our last public auctions in November. In this manner the Antwerp market has been burdened with a heavy stock all through summer and part of autumn, the holding of which may be called a very creditable performance speaking from a financial point of view, but which has, nevertheless, failed to answer the expectations which had been formed concerning it. The far spread opinion, which we too profess, and which tends to look upon all artificial means interfering with any article's natural course as being dangerous, has in this instance again proved true. In these days of rapid and easy communications and of great publicity given to everything connected with business, it is next to impossible that the motives by which any party is guided in resorting to such means should remain a secret to the party upon which it is desired to take effect, thus consumers proved quite indifferent as regards the reduced offerings which were brought forward at a time, looking upon the large available choice as being sure to be offered to them sooner or later, and instead of paying importers the hoped for advance in autumn, the latter were finally obliged to be content with taking such prices, as they could have made upon arrival of their wools already, saving interest and expenses.

As may be inferred from what precedes, prices have undergone but small fluctuations. We find the value of an average Buenos Aires prima rendering 30 o/o established at about fc.1.55 to 1.60 in our January-February auctions and remaining worth about as much during the ensuing auctions in April. At the sales which took place in July-August its value had receded to about fc.1.50 to 1.55 to which the November sales brought no alteration.

We now begin the new year with an average stock, and since arrivals of new wools are likely to continue small for some time yet, owing to the high prices current of the places of production, which prevent importing on a larger scale, we may hope for a steady maintenance of the present standard of value at least until the coming off of our next auctions which are not to open before the 25th instant.

Since the date of our last circular transactions have been very steady. It appears that the trials made with new clip wools at washing have turned out little satisfactory, which has resulted in old wools again gaining in favour. For the latter good prices have been paid and in many instances a slight advance has been established as compared with our last public auctions' rates, whilst buyers show great reserve as far as the new produce is concerned.

Our statistical position is as follows:—

		Bales.
Stock on 21st Dec.		9,497
	Bales.
Arrivals from Buenos Aires	4,817
Do Montevideo	558
Do Rivers		5,375
Sales by private contract	1,994 bls.	14,872
Public sales
Transit	1,079 bls.	3,073
Stock to-day		11,799

Hides—

Comparing our prices with those of last year at the corresponding epoch, we find little or no change as far as salted ox and dry hides in general are concerned, whilst for salted cows they are fully 5 o/o lower. During the first months of the year the market remained very quiet with stationary prices, B. Aires ox, 25/32 kos., being then worth about fs.83. In June, business became more active, owing to slight concessions, being allowed which did not however exceed fs.2 and resulted in quite extensive transactions during July-August, the demand principally bearing on heavy ox for export to England. Our stock being thereby much reduced, prices returned to the level which they occupied at the beginning of the year, with the exception of salted cows as pointed out above, and have remained so up to date.

We have had two public sales during the course of the year which, as is generally the case on our market, proved a deception to sellers. In February about 30,000 hides were brought forward whereof 22,000 were sold at barely maintained rates, and in December the quantity offered consisted of 19,000 hides whereof 12,000 hides were sold under similar circumstances.

Though the situation of our continental trade has scarcely improved, and many tanners continue working on a small scale, consumption, through having been at times very effectually assisted by the demand for export, has been strong enough to prevent any accumulation of stock, notwithstanding total imports having exceeded those of last year by about 30,000 hides, and killings having been larger by about 200,000 head. We thus begin the new year with but a very small available supply, and this circumstance aiding, may with some reason hope that prices will remain maintained during the near time to come.

Notice to Flax Growers.

The undersigned is now prepared to supply Flax Growers with specially constructed maschine, with reversible gear for making tow or scutching the fine fibre.

Their suitability for the above purpose cannot be denied and their simplicity of working is such that a youth of 12 years can manage them with perfect safety. The machine is so constructed that the breaking and scutching processes are performed at the same time, so that there are in reality two machines combined in one, doing their work simultaneously.

The machine being constructed on wheels, can be easily moved to any part of the lint field.

For cheapness the price will be so reasonable that it will come within the reach of all, and for durability and completness in doing their work none has as yet been offered with such advantages to cultivator of Flax.

For further informations please apply personally or by letter at my address.

Value of Coins.

Regarding the value of the coins in circulation in the Interior, the National Executive Power has issued the following decree:

Finance Office of the Nation
B. Aires, Jan. 4th, 1883

Having seen the petition in which the merchants of Tucuman ask that the value of the Bolivian 'chirola' be fixed according to Nat. currency, and in view of the report by the 'Contaduria General,' and considering:

That said coins have been valued by successive decrees according to their metallic value in accord with the alternatives of silver in universal currency, and accordingly said value has been received and delivered by the fiscal offices of the Nation.

That the resolution of the 2nd Dec. 1882 establishing the price for buying foreign silver, for re-coinage, will not interfere with said value.

That the difficulties which the petitioners feared cannot occur, since they refer to the currency they have, and it has a legal, valued circulation.

That all the obligations assigned to the Bolivian dollar in the different provinces of the Interior has always carried explicitly the determined value that in each contract is understood by the phrase 'Bolivian dollar,' and its metalic conversion corresponding according as the case may be.

That though in the provinces they have had Banks of emission regulated according to the value of the Bolivian dollar, it has not been at all uniform, since their notes during the period of their convertibility are not equal to the Bolivian dollar of two cuatros, since in San Juan, Cordoba and Santa Fe they emit it at the value of $fts. 0.75, whilst in other places the value of the 4 Chirolas is issued at 0.14 c. fts or 0.56 fuertes, following the monetary system of each place. There are even some banks that issue the name of Bolivian dollar notes of $f.0.75 cent in one branch whilst in another branch of same bank they are issued at 0.56 c. fuertes.

That they should not confound the various unities that under the name of 'Bolivians' have circulated in the Interior, composed of a number of moneys of fixed value, with the Bolivian dollar called 'Efectivo' which is composed of two cuatros, withdrawn from circulation by decree 6 June 1876, but has been circulating privately, causing the decree of the 31st Oct. to be issued.

That the meeting called by the Contaduria settles the case in question, and all others of the same nature, and the question of fixing the value of moneys in legal circulation or tolerated in the country can be considered arranged.

By these rules and in conformity with the previous reports, the above question must be arranged by the decree of the 2nd Dec. 1882. Let this be made known to the Supreme Government of Tucuman with transcription of the Report of the Contaduria, and let it be published.

"PLOUGHS"

"PLOUGHS" "PLOUGHS"

Messrs M. Forrester & Co.

Beg to announce to the Public that they have lately introduced into this country with great success the

Celebrated Two and Three Furrow Ploughs of Messrs. HOWARD ENGLAND

These WROUGHT IRON PLOUGHS fitted with breasts and shares of steel, have been extensively used in the Provinces and are destined to supersede the light and flimsy wood implements made by the Americans.

By means of a simple hand lever the onward movement of the animals raises the plough out of work at the ends, thus saving the driver the usual hard lifting connected with ploughing.

The two Furrow Plough is drawn by a pair of bullocks, thus doing double the work of a single plough and still with only one man.

These "Multiple" Ploughs are now almost universally employed in Australia and South Africa, and in recommending these implements Messrs. Forrester & Co feel confident that they are well adapted to the requirements of the Plate.

In order to procure these Ploughs orders should be sent in at once, or disappointment may be incurred.
